FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Victory of Light Expo
November 21 & 22, 2009
Sharonville Convention Center

Cincinnati, Ohio....The Victory of Light Expo returns to the Sharonville Convention Center November 21 & 22, 2009, 10am-7pm each day. One of the country's largest body-mind-spirit conventions for the general public, the festival provides opportunities to explore the world of parapsychology, psychic development and holistic healing. It features over 50 free seminars on a wide variety of holistic and spiritual topics.

The festival showcases intuitive and holistic practitioners who will provide personal readings and healings. Over 200 tables of merchandise for body, mind and spirit will be available including gemstone jewelry, crystals, books, music, art, wearables, and aromatherapy and wellness products.

Internationally recognized holistic physician and author Lewis Mehl-Madrona will present the seminars, "Native American Ceremony & Ritual" and "Narrative Healing: Change the Story, Change the Person." Mehl-Madrona is author of the best-seller Coyote Medicine as well as Coyote Healing, Coyote Wisdom, and the recently published Narrative Medicine. Mehl-Madrona grew up in Cincinnati and attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. He is the youngest peacetime graduate of Stanford Medical School. He was introduced to native healing by his Cherokee grandparents and has extensively studied indigenous healing practices.

"My personal goals include the furthering of a paradigm shift within medicine, psychiatry and psychology toward aligning with indigenous knowledge systems and providing healing activities more in line with what traditional cultures have offered," says Mehl-Madrona.

The festival will also feature free gallery-style spirit message circles conducted by professional mediums in the style of John Edward. Thomas Freese, author of five books of ghost stories, will present, "Ghosts Spirits & Angels: True Tales from Kentucky & Beyond." Cartographer Jeff Craig will present, "Ohio Paranormal Road Trips." Tibetan monks will provide Buddhist Chakra Blessings and seminars on healing and achieving freedom from suffering.

Other seminar topics include Tarot, Angels & Spirit Guides, Acupuncture, Fairies, Ayurveda (5,000 year old science of life from India), Past Lives, Palmistry, Reiki (energy healing) and Intuitive Police Work. Most seminars are free and advance reservations are not required.

Live New Age music will be provided by keyboardist Lighthawk Mark Kenworthy, New York's The Gypsy Nomads who will perform their trademark French Gypsy Celtic Folk Rock, award winning Native American flutist Douglas Bluefeather and singer Terri Rivera Piatt. Also featured: Aura photography, psychic artists and belly dancing.

Admission: $12 one day, $20 two days. Children 12 and under free. Seniors and student receive a $2 discount. Parking is free.

The Sharonville Convention Center is located at 11355 Chester Road, Cincinnati, OH 45246. (Exit 15 (Sharon Road exit) on I-75 just south of I-275, drive one block West to Chester Road, turn right on Chester. The Convention Center is on left. Look for the bright pink banners.)
